

Hill Acquitted By Jury In Trial For Dry Law Violation

Maryland Congressman Wins
Test Case to Decide Extent
of Volstead Rule

TWO COUNTS DISMISSED

Clause Defining "Intoxicating"
Does Not Apply to Homemade Beverages

By Associated Press
Baltimore, Md. — Representative
John Phillip Hill of Baltimore was acquitted by a jury in United States Court Thursday of violating the Volstead law by manufacturing intoxicating wine and cider at his home, 3
West Franklin-st.

The fifth and sixth counts of the indictment which charged Colonel Hill with making a common nuisance at his home, were dismissed
under instructions from Judge Morris A. Soper, who presided at the trial.
The trial was the result of a test case forced by Colonel Hill, who maintained the Volstead law favored the farmer, giving him a right to manufacture cider and wine but withheld from the city man the right to manufacture beer.

The trial brought from Judge Soper
the opinion that the clause of the Volstead act defining beverages of more than half of one per cent alcoholic content as illegal did not apply to homemade wines and cider,
provided the product is non-intoxicating "in fact."

Judge Soper also indicated by his rulings and his charge to the jury
that the burden rested upon the government to show that such home products were intoxicating in fact and a violation of the law.

ASKS SEALED VERDICT
The congressman's case was given to the jury about 1:45 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. When nearly four hours of deliberation failed to bring an agreement, Judge Morris A. Soper adjourned court authorizing the jury to return a sealed verdict if a decision was reached.

Only twice Wednesday night was
there any word from the jury. On one occasion a copy of Section 29
of the Volstead act was requested.
This section relates to home manufacture of cider and fruit juices. Later
the juryman asked for a dictionary.
Judge Soper in his charge to the jury Wednesday said there were but
two questions for it to decide—whether
Mr. Hill's beverage was wine and
whether it and the cider were in fact
intoxicating.

BUTLER NAMED TO SUCCEED LODGE

Governor Cox Appoints Republican Chairman as Senator
from Massachusetts

Boston, Mass.—William M. Butler,
lawyer and manufacturer and chairman of the Republican national committee, Thursday was appointed by Governor Cox to succeed the late Henry Cabot Lodge as United States
senator from Massachusetts.
The governor, it is said, has assurances that Mr. Butler will accept.

The appointment is for approximately two years as the seat cannot be filled by election until the next general election in 1926. This is in accordance with a law enacted two years ago, giving the governor authority to appoint a successor to fill such vacancies as may develop between elections.

Senator Lodge's term would have expired in 1928 and the winner of the election two years hence will serve only until that time.

Mr. Butler will qualify at Washington in time to take his seat when congress convenes on December.

The naming of Mr. Butler by Governor Cox was not unexpected. The only other person prominently mentioned in connection with the senate vacancy was R. Loring Young, speaker of the Massachusetts house of representative who stood aside from the contests for the Republican nomination for United States Senator in the primaries this fall.

APPLETON TRIO FORCED ESCAPE, PRISONER SAYS

Escaped Brilliant Farmer Surrenders Telling Story of Wild Flight

Fond du Lac—A tale of being forced at the point of a revolver to accompany three refugees from justice on a wild trip across five states to avoid recapture was told to authorities at Chilton by Franklin Haese, a young brilliant farmer, who escaped from jail on the night of Aug. 20 and who gave himself up at the Calumet-co jail Tuesday.

For two months, since he was forced to leave the jail with three Appleton
men who saved the bars of a cell
and slid down a rope of bedclothing, he has been an unwilling member of the party, which visited St. Paul, then went to South Dakota and Iowa and cruised back to Chicago where he made his escape from them, according to Haese.

A guard was kept over him most of the time, and he only escaped at the risk of his life, he said. He worked in Chicago until he earned money to come home.

The men who took the young farmer
on his hazardous journey are Carl Chivington, Anton Krueger and Clarence Kern, who were in the Calumet-co jail, charged with attacking three young women.

Haese was in jail, charged, with two other men with taking a slot machine
from a roadhouse. The other men had been released on bail. Haese provided bail and was released Tuesday.

THREE KILLED BY BLAST IN POST OFFICE

Suspect Premature Explosion
of Time Bomb Sent
Through Mails

By Associated Press
Grand Rapids, Mich. — Postal inspectors from Chicago arrived early Thursday to aid local inspectors in the investigation of the explosion which wrecked the loading dock and receiving room of the main postoffice
here late Wednesday, killing three and injuring twelve others.

Herman Pettersch, a clerk, succumbed after having both legs blown off and Ernest A. Roth, a truck driver, died three hours after the blast.
A splinter was driven into Roth's
body by the force of the explosion.
Dale Newhouse, 19, died in a hospital
Thursday morning.

The theory that the blast was caused by the premature explosion of a bomb which had been sent through the mails, was advanced by postal authorities, police and firemen who worked all night by aid of search lights, scouring the wreckage for clues. No fragments of a bomb or other explosive was found, however.

The explosion which was felt all over the city and shattered windows
for several blocks, hurled fragments of the loading platform 100 feet into the air, threw a loading truck into the federal building roof and buried five automobiles in debris.

Only twice Wednesday night was
there any word from the jury. On
one occasion a copy of Section 29
of the Volstead act was requested.
This section relates to home manufacture of cider and fruit juices. Later
the juryman asked for a dictionary.
Judge Soper in his charge to the
jury Wednesday said there were but
two questions for it to decide—whether
Mr. Hill's beverage was wine and
whether it and the cider were in fact
intoxicating.

SOVIET OFFICIAL BETRAYED PLAN IN BRITAIN, IS CLAIM

Zinovieff and Other Secret Documents Given to Conservatives, Charge

By Associated Press
Warsaw.—The Lwowka, Gazeta, a newspaper usually well informed on Russian affairs, says the alleged Zinovieff letter was divulged by the chief of an important secret section of the Moscow foreign office which directed propaganda in the British dominions.
This official, the paper says, left Moscow suddenly about the middle of October, taking with him the famous letter and other secret documents in the Zinovieff case.

His departure spread consternation
among the Soviet authorities and attempts were made to catch him at Berlin. He took an airplane to London, where other agents of the Soviet tried to seize him upon landing, but he again evaded them and banded the Zinovieff letter and other papers to the conservatives, who, the account says, intend to use the letter in the forthcoming debates in the house of commons on Anglo-Soviet relations.

The newspaper adds that the man who took the documents to London is being kept hidden by the conservatives for fear of an attack upon him
by the Bolsheviks.

London.—The cabinet has appointed a cabinet committee to reinvestigate
the alleged letter from Z. Zinovieff calling for increased activities on the part of the British Communists, according to statements in some of the morning newspapers. These reports say the ministers agreed that the matter
could not remain in the indefinite position in which it was left by the late government and they decided it was necessary to establish whether the letter was genuine or a forgery in order to reply to the Soviet government's demand for a Soviet.

DRAG LAKE IN SEARCH OF RED ARROW VETERAN

Oshkosh.—A searching party from the sheriff's office started Thursday dragging in Lake Butte des Morts for the body of Edward T. Trobler, ex-service man, believed to have been drowned while hunting ducks. His empty skiff was found near Sunset point. The lake was exceedingly rough when he set out for the marshes
and there is no clue as to where he may have fallen into the lake, as no one is known to have seen him after he paddled from shore. His father,
Edward Trobler, employed at Iron Mountain, arrived here Thursday to assist in the search. Trobler was 28
and served overseas in the Red Arrow division. He has two brothers,
Joseph and Frank, and a sister, Mrs.
Rosalie Sadler or Stadler living at Milwaukee.

Hold Pugilist In Chicago Slaying Of Gang Chieftain

Body Lies in State in $10,000
Casket Guarded by Silent
Henchmen While Police Pursue Probe

By Associated Press
Chicago — Dion O'Banion, floristshopman, lay in a $10,000 casket Thursday guarded by silent, square jawed
henchmen, amid thousands of dollars worth of flowers and wreaths,
while the police traced what they considered the first tangible clue to the identity of his slayers.

They held Jules Portugais, 23, a boxer known as Jimmy Welsh in whose garage a blue sedan was found answering the description of the one in which the slayers fled from O'Ban-ion's flower shop after the killing.
Harry Portugais, his father, denied the automobile had been out of the garage Monday at the time of the slaying, but later admitted he had used it himself. The son maintained silence.

Results from the arrest were expected by Michael Hughes, detective chief, who expressed doubt that the slayers, if found, would ever be prosecuted.

"I expect we will satisfy ourselves
to a moral identification of the killers," Chief Hughes said, "but nothing will come of it. There will be no prosecutions. It's the same old story.
We'll never be able to get anybody to identify them if we do get them."

O'Banion's friends professing ignorance of the identity of the slayers,
also are investigating. Louis Alterio, the slain leader's lieutenant, to whom O'Banion's mantle is reputed to have fallen, has told reporters.

"If I can make an appointment
with the killers I will shoot it out with them," he said.
He said he and O'Banion had recently received telephone threats and the former had expected trouble last Monday. Alterio had intended going to the flower shop as a guard but overslept, he said. He attributed the killing to jealousy of O'Banion's growing power in the underworld and politically.

The brain of O'Banion, examined
by Coroner's Physician Joseph Springer, was pronounced "excellent."
The panic leader "mentally normal."
O'Banion was called the "kindest man in the world" by his widow, who was taken to her home in a state of collapse early Thursday after hours of vigil at the bier. Charles O'Banion, his father, said his son was a hard working and peaceful boy, and he denied he had ever had any connection with gangs.

REVEALS CACHE OF ROUNDOUT MAIL LOOT

Attorneys Deny Former Postal Inspector Changed Plea
to Guilty

By Associated Press
Chicago.—Brent Wood Glasscock
who has confessed that he directed the $3,000,000 mail train holdup at Rockford, Ill., last June, is reported to have told government officials that $600,000 worth of the loot is hidden in a south side flat here.

Officials intimated Thursday that this is all of the unrecovered loot as they sent searching parties out. This would mean that $1,400,000 has been recovered.

Rumors that William Fahy, former postal inspector, accused of being the inside man in the robbery, would change his plea to guilty were emphatically denied by his attorney.

POLICE PUZZLED BY LOS ANGELES DEATH MYSTERY

Several Suspects Are Released
After Proving Airtight
Alibis

By Associated Press
Los Angeles.—Police Thursday themselves mystified by the murder of Harry I. Katz, musician, real estate operator and diamond broker, who was shot and killed on the doorstep
of his apartment here last Monday night, the latest suspect taken into custody having established an apparently airtight alibi.

Chase Carroll, barber and husband of a woman friend of the slain man was taken into custody shortly after midnight Wednesday night, the second man to be detained for questioning within 24 hours, but after lengthy grilling detectives announced they were satisfied he was in his barbershop when Katz was killed, and accordingly released him early Thursday.

Carroll was taken into custody on the strength of threats he is alleged to have made against Katz in connection with the latter's association with Alvin Karpis.

The other suspect grilled and later
released was Hal Hall, Santa Monica real estate broker, who spent several hours in the city jail Wednesday as the result of an apparent discrepancy
in his story of a meeting with Katz less than ten minutes before the shooting. The seeming discrepancy vanished after extensive interrogation
late Wednesday night he was released.

Rock Island News.

Warrants for them were issued af-

DOUBLE SLAYING MYSTIFIES COPS

By Associated Press
Cleveland, O. — Police Thursday
were confronted with solving the mysterious murder of Louis Rosenberg and his brother-in-law, Adolph Rosenberg, of Philadelphia, who with his wife, was visiting the Rosens. The men were shot and killed by different sized bullets early Thursday in the rear of the Rosens' home in the east boulevard district off Rockefeller park.

The first police theory was robbery.
They also were puzzled over an anonymous telephone call received at headquarters telling them "if you get a report of a gang shooting, then guns in east ninety-seventh, not pay any attention to it. The noise was their automobile exhaust."

Smuggled Jewelry Valued at More Than $250,000 Has Been Seized

SEEK ALLEGED DIRECTOR
Headquarters Are in New York
but Chief Markets on Pacific Coast

Washington, D. C.—A jewel smuggling conspiracy of vast dimensions
has been uncovered by customs service agents working in half a dozen sections of the country since the killing last August of Mrs. Theresa Mors in Los Angeles.
Smuggled jewelry valued at more than $250,000 already has been seized and a man known as Mediansky is said to have left the country. Is being sought as the active director. If not the actual head of the conspiracy in which he is alleged to have had a dozen or more aides.

The killing of Mrs. Mors, with which Kid McCoy is charged, served, insofar as the conspiracy is concerned it is said merely to provide the first definite lead into the smuggling maze, some of her jewelry having been identified after the crime as part of the illicit imports. A similar lead was opened in Los Angeles Monday with the killing of Harry I. Katz and officials estimate that "several hundred" persons scattered widely throughout the country have come increasingly into possession of the smuggled gems, about half of which they think will never be identified.

HEADQUARTERS IN NEW YORK
Although much work remains for the customs agents in searching out
further details of the conspiracy, their success thus far has been such that the treasury felt justified in making public most of the story reported by services officials in New York. The smugglers are said to have maintained their headquarters
in New York but Pacific coast concentrations, especially Los Angeles and San Francisco, appear to have provided their principal markets, judging from the amounts recovered there. Most of the jewelry, the agents reported, was purchased by the smugglers in Austria and Germany with the depreciated currencies of those nations,
after some of it had found its way out of Russia.

WARRANT WILL BE SERVED ON GIRL IN ROGERS DEATH

County Authorities Place Little
Importance on Bloodstained
Napkin

By Associated Press
New Haven, Conn.—Ward Church
grand juror of Northaven who has been investigating the death of Charles C. Rogers, bond salesman and nephew of Mrs. Ogden M. Reid of New York who was found fatally injured while in an automobile driven by Miss Marjorie Schneider, was undecided, he said Thursday when a warrant would be served on Miss Schneider, charging her with driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor.

A warrant will be issued for Miss Schneider, Mr. Church said, "and after consultation with her counsel
I will arrange for her appearance in the Northaven court at some time
convenient for all parties concerned."

Mr. Church added that other legal business which had demanded his attention had delayed issuance of the warrant. He said that no further action with reference to Rogers' death was now contemplated by the New Haven authorities. All the evidence he had obtained bearing on the case
had been turned over to county State Attorney A. A. Alling, he said.

It was learned Thursday that the county authorities attach little importance to the discovery of a blood stained towel and napkin near where Rogers was found.

WANTS ALL STATE ROADS TO BE MADE ARTERY HIGHWAYS

Supervisor Jansen Asks Support for Measure to Go Before Legislature

Every federal and state highway and every road of county trunk highway systems throughout the state would be made arterial highways on which travelers would have the right of way against traffic crossing these highways, if a bill favored by the president Anton Jansen of Little Chute were successful in legislature.

Mr. Jansen introduced a resolution at the meeting of the county board of supervisors Wednesday committing the board to the proposed measure. The resolution was referred to the county highway committee.

A hearing by the board is desired by Mrs. Anderson Smith, Indian woman, whose husband was drowned in a washout on a road in Oneida two years ago, according to Supervisor William Rohan of Buchanan. Mrs. Smith lost her damage suit in circuit court, but she desires to have the board hear her case, it was said.

The board agreed to the proposition that the county highway committee be organized with a cash balance of $500 and informed the board that no appropriation for indigent soldiers or their widows would be necessary at this time. The commission consists of Fred Heinemann, Sr., A. O. Hecht and George Merkel. Annual reports of the county highway committee will be made to the board.

Petitions for county aid in construction of bridges in Oneida, Liberty and Vandenbroek, washed out by floods, petitions for additions to the patrol system in Seymour, Oneida, Maple Creek, Maine and Bovina, petition for scarfing a portion of highway 78 in Ellington and Greenville, a petition for additional creting of highway 47, for improvement of county trunk line J, were received and referred to the highway committee. A number of illegal tax petitions were referred to the committee on illegal taxes.

ADOPT RULING FOR BOY SCOUT SERVICE

Public Assistance Must Have Sanction of Committee—Camps Discussed

Public service by boy scouts of cities in Valley council, Boy Scouts of America, will be given hereafter only by consent of the executive committee, according to a decision reached by the committee at a meeting at scout headquarters here Tuesday evening.

Judge Edgar V. Werner's proposal for a campaign, the purchase of land for a camp on Lake Winnebago and the disapproval of sending a delegation to the regional scout conference were the principal matters under discussion.

Each request for help of the scouts will be referred to the executive committee and the troops will not be permitted to serve until approval has been given. This procedure will be used so that all public acts performed by the boys will be in keeping with scout rules. The ruling in no way affects service of individual troops to the church or other institution which is sponsoring them, according to P. O. Keicher, valley executive.

Judge Werner has offered the land for a camp for boys and girls at Shawano lake and desires the valley council to consider its use. A committee of four was appointed to visit the site on Sunday afternoon, Nov. 23, and make a report on the venture. Members of the committee are J. C. Kimberly, Neenah, William G. Trilling, Menasha; Louis Bonini, Appleton; Richard Radsch, Kaukauna.

No delegate will be sent to the regional scout conference in Chicago in the near future, the committee decided. This gathering is attended by laymen.

Mr. Keicher presented a report on available campsites on the east shore of Lake Winnebago south of High Cliff and recommended one or two he thought most desirable.

Completion of the campsites for the 1924 budget will be considered at a joint meeting of finance committees of each district in the council Monday night, according to plans of the executive board.

E. Schneider, J. Moder and F. Schaefer of the Appleton Motor Co. left Monday for Milwaukee where they attended the dedication of an addition of the Curtis Auto Co. property.

CATCH 6 AUTOISTS ON NEW PAVEMENT

Contractor Intends to Arrest Drivers Who Passed Lemnawah-st Barricades

Warrants for six autoists who drove past barricades and used the new pavement on Lemnawah-st are to be sworn out by Koepke Bros., according to a statement of Lawrence Koepke. License numbers of six cars were obtained Tuesday and arrest is expected to follow.

The pavement is not ready for traffic either on Lemnawah-st or at the Second-ave intersection, according to Mr. Koepke, and those who use it will be punished, he says.

Barricades were placed at each end of the street and on Second-ave to indicate that the road is closed but drivers have eluded around them and have used the pavement. They are supposed to enter the city by way of Owaissa-st until the new highway is ready for use.

SPONGE SQUAD MOPS UP SHEBOYGAN ROAD HOUSE

Sheboygan—Sheriff George Goodell and Dist. Atty. Charles Voigt are "out to get" the moonshine venders in Sheboygan co. Several soft drink establishments have been raided and their owners are awaiting trial in circuit court.

The last ones to come under the attack of the county authorities are Joseph Greisch, of Glen Beulah, and Calumet Inn, just north of Sheboygan, owned by "Zibby" Sands. Calumet inn is one of the resorts in Sheboygan county that caters to the younger set, having a small dancing room just off the bar.

Sheriff Goodell and a cleanup squad raided the place, obtaining evidence that has been turned over to the district attorney. No warrants have been issued although it was expected one would be asked Tuesday. Six gallons of moonshine and a bottle of wine were obtained. Greisch was bound over to circuit court Monday. His bond was fixed at $500.

The other day a customer of ours bought a grey suit, a bright blue tie, blue socks, a shirt with a blue figure, collar to match. Every one of these items was exactly what he wanted—and he is a man of very critical taste. FATHER OF AUTO THIEF ASSISTS IN CAPTURE OF YOUTH

Ford Car Stolen Here Is Recovered at Waupaca—Thief Is Paroled

The Ford automobile stolen from August Brandt company on Monday was discovered by Appleton police at Waupaca Wednesday, and the thief, Donald Fox, 18, was brought here from Waupaca to answer the charges against him. The car was found by the sheriff of Waupaca-co on the boy's father's farm near Waupaca, and the boy was held until the Appleton police arrived. After hearing the case, Judge A. M. Spencer Wednesday afternoon placed the boy under parole to the Waupaca-co sheriff for a period of two years with the order to report at the court every six months.

Through investigations made by Detective John Duval it developed that a man giving the name of Owens sought to purchase a revolver at an Appleton store with a check issued upon an Appleton bank. When the salesman accompanied the stranger to the bank for the purpose of identification, the bank denied that the man had an account there. The stranger suggested that there was some mistake and insisted that he had deposited $200 there a few days ago. Finally the stranger left his watch as security for the revolver. He gave the address of Route 2, Appleton, Box 40, which was fictitious. That Owens was none other than Donald Fox, was proved when Chief George T. Prim drove to Waupaca Wednesday to get the stolen car and the thief. Fox had driven away with the Ford which was parked in front of the Groch Motor and Bicycle shop, College-ave, and thrown away the license plate and spare tire cover on a vacant lot on Maple Grove-st.

Fox told his father that he had sold some stock and bought the car with the commission. The father recognized the story as fabricated and inquired of the sheriff if he were looking for a stolen car. This result was that the boy was relieved of the car and the boy placed under arrest and held at the Waupaca jail until the Appleton police took charge of the affair.

CHEESEMAKER PUT TOO MUCH WATER IN CHEESE

A fine of $25 and costs was paid by Ervin Rieckman, a cheesemaker in the town of Dale, upon the order of Judge A. M. Spencer. In a municipal court Tuesday afternoon following the defendant's plea of guilty to the charge of making cheese with excess moisture. The statutes limit the moisture in cheese to 38 per cent, but a sample of the cheesemaker's products tested at 41.7 per cent, according to the statement of an inspector.

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

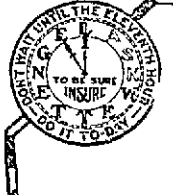

Easily and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using this well-known old recipe for making cough syrup. It is simple and cheap but it has no equal for prompt results. It takes right hold of a cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from a drugist, pour it into a pint bottle, and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely, the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract known the world over for its healing effect on membranes. Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. 30 SCOUTS AWAIT AWARDS OF MERIT

Merit badge certificates will be awarded to about 30 boy scouts at a meeting of the court of honor of Valley council, Boy Scouts of America, on Nov. 19.

The court of honor has not been organized but P. O. Kelscher, valley executive, hopes to have enough men enrolled by that time so the ceremonies can be carried out appropriately.

Awarding of the badges will not take place at that time as they have not been obtained from the national headquarters. They are given to a scout who completes training of the required degree in some form of scouting activity, some trade or art or some phase of citizenship.

Men who are experts in various trades or professions or outdoor activity are needed for the court of honor and those who will give their time occasionally either for instructing or examining of boys are asked to enroll at the headquarters in Insurance-bldg.

LOOKING FOR A WRANGLE
Although the soviet territory extends from the Atlantic to the Pacific in Europe and Asia, the Moscow government has seized Wrangell island, run up the Red flag, and carried off the residents, most of whom were Canadians and Eskimos. The original settlement by Canadians appears to have been a personal venture of the explorer, Stefansson. Stefansson frequently has besought the British and Canadian governments to claim the island, but neither has shown interest in his plans. The American government does not seem to care much whether the American flag flies on Wrangell island or not.
The soviet government does not need more land. It has too much now, being what the people call "land poor." This explains the condition which prevails in Russia. The nation is large and the land is vast, but the government proposes to get along without money, and without modern industry, without standard social and moral laws and customs. The final outcome of such a state of affairs can be easily pictured.
Why does the soviet government seize Wrangell and carry off the colonists? In order to distract attention from the grave troubles which exist all over Russia and in order, in all probability, to get into a quarrel with one of the leading powers. It is the old trick which monarchs used to play when their influence was waning. Sovietism aims to break down religion, to destroy churches, and to substitute naturalism for deism. It is attempting to ruin the republican system, under which the individual is free, and to install the chaotic communistic system of state despotism and tyranny. It is striving to reorganize society by changing relations. It is an atheistic, unmoral, bureaucratic scheme to enslave, degrade and impoverish the people.
The soviet government would divert attention from the wrongs, sufferings, discontent and failure which flourish in Russia. Therefore, it carries away the colonists from Wrangell Island. Therefore, it finances propaganda of revolution in other countries in Europe and America. Therefore, it tries to get into controversies outside of Russia.

ENERGY IN NATURE
William Marconi believes that there is an undiscovered, latent power or force, or condition, in nature for developing energy. It is often expressed in formula by experimenters, yet they have not, so far, been able to recognize it. So he said, in effect, in a radio talk in Rome after returning from one of his research voyages on the Mediterranean. "I am convinced," he stated, "that there exists in nature a means for propagating energy, which is still unknown to us, which we vainly try to represent by mathematical formulas with theories imagined by us, but which often are disproved by later discoveries."
The radio itself gives us this idea strongly. We get it as we consider the vengeance of the wind, the hot torture of the sun, the bleak misery of the cold. These freaks of nature which frequently occur apprise us that there are marvels of power and energy which may, if we understood the principle to which Mr. Marconi alludes, be employed in commerce. More, possibly than anything else, radio suggests his assumption to be correct.

BEATING THE LOCOMOTIVE
The automobile has much respect for the motortruck and street car. Strangely, it treats the locomotive and grade crossing with daredevil contempt.

Statistics published by the bureau of railway news and statistics indicate that grade crossing fatalities increased from 6326 in 1922 to 7285 in 1923, an increase of 1059, notwithstanding all the admonitory propaganda of the past several years. "Reckless automobile driving has put an end," says the report, "to the steady decline in railway fatalities, which was so marked between 1916 and 1921."
According to the bureau, 302 railroads, operating 173,340 miles of trackage had no fatal accidents to passengers in 1923. Two railroads operating 9397 miles of trackage, killed one passenger, leaving says the bureau, "only forty other fatalities to be accounted for."
The interference is, of course, that the train passengers are safer than passengers in automobiles, whose drivers attempt to beat locomotives at grade crossings. The railroad statistics show what can be done through efforts to realize public safety.

MAY REVOLUTIONIZE AN INDUSTRY
Floodin, a Swedish engineer, is said to have discovered a method for extracting pure steel and forge iron directly from the iron ore, doing away with melting furnaces. He has been successful with his process in experiments conducted on a small scale and is making ready to test it out in regular plant operations.
Eliminating the melting furnace would cheapen the cost of iron and steel production. In all probability, it would have widespread effect in centralizing the iron and steel industry. At present, iron must be taken to coal, or coal to iron. The Floodin process may result in treating the iron at the mines, and allow shipment of steel or iron to foundries, mills and plants scattered among numerous important market centers.

None of the details of the new process is known in this country. However, as the inventor is connected with the Hagfors Iron Works, it is to be taken for granted he is a practical authority. This new process may revolutionize the whole iron and steel industry.

SKATING.
G RACE has its place in the old skatin' rink where the young and the old join in fun. Of health in real wealth, old are right on the brink when habitual skating is done.
Soon comes the call, at the end of the fall for the glide and the slide on the ice. Grab off the treat. Put some skates on your feet and you'll find that the pleasure is nice.
While strength you're employing and skating on joying, remember your vigor and vim makes blood circulate and your pulses palpitate and it keeps your old system in trim.
When outdoor wafle tangle, it's than you should mingle with nature and get fresh air. That's why I'm suggesting that you be investing in skates for an exercise treat.

THE PERSPICACIOUS HUSBAND.
When the five hour day which economists foresee arrives, the honest laborer earning his bread by the sweat of his brow won't seem so highly conventionalized as he seems now. If a fellow could get away with it by a little perspiration about the forehead—well, who would care about a little thing like that? Not any man who has ever done a tap of honest work. When a man tears right into his job his sweating isn't confined to his brow, not by a number of pints. But we propose to discuss today, not the sweating husbandman as one might suppose, but another kind of poor goof, the one whose wife has grown fat on him.
From data in hand I find that this fate has overtaken a great army of husbands in the past decade. I draw my data not from the complaints of the husbands and still more from confessions of the wives. These confessions have been thrust upon me, in spite of my earnest entreaties that I be spared the historical data. You see, I have managed to propagate pretty extensively the nice comfortable notion that I have a rather mysterious or secret method by means of which any fat woman may reduce while she eats, virtually, and so they unlose rivers of ink in the more or less futile endeavor to gain some sympathy and advice. The advice I am glad to give them. But nix on the sympathy. "NTIL tell you why. Nearly all of these fat women—believe me, friends, that's the very last thing a perspicacious husband should ever call to mind—least 80 per cent of them let me tell me by way of apology, how little they weighed when they married and how all "this supernatural flesh"—that's the term they prefer for it—all this burdensome excess weight has overtaken them since the first, second or third baby arrived. All of which is unessential, for it stands to reason, doesn't it, that they must have been— that the deplorable adipose—well, never mind, but when a woman has the title of missus one may infer that somebody married her.
Yet that isn't what we set out to discuss. It is the man in the case that deserves any sympathy there may be to spare. He married the almost incredible person so many of these fat women describe in their histories. He took her for better or worse—133 of 145 pounds of her. And now he has 195 pounds of her, which is a lot more than the man bargained for. A maintenance ration for 133 pounds is one thing, but a maintenance ration for 195 pounds is another matter. The poor man has got a great deal more than he bargained for.

Nor it ain't just that either. That might be perspicacious for a husband. But I want to show you where the perspicacity comes in. I said just now that "fat women" is the last thing the perspicacious husband will ever call his superfluous wife. That's the perspicacity, right there. Here is a beautiful instance, and I command the example to a every head of a large and growing family, be it numerically or otherwise large and growing:
Dear Sir:
I was much interested in the letter of Mrs. M. E. H. who followed in the footsteps of Mrs. Jack Spratt. I am 32 years old, height 5 feet 6 1/2 inches, and I weigh 165. My husband is one of those comfortable persons who says I am "just right." How ever I recall that the year of our marriage I weighed just 145 pounds. . . . (MRS. H. S. R.)
Well, that's enough. Yet you get the general idea, fellows.

German Crown Prince Subject Of Criticism
(From Twelve Years at the Imperial German Court. By Count Robert Zedlitz-Drutzel.)
Apr. 15, 1909.
There is a general tendency to judge the crown prince too severely. Of course he is very immature for a prince of 23. He is somewhat reckless and seems to have no serious interests. But no one is honestly concerned in educating him and speaking to him on grave matters or allowing him to take part in any substantial business.
No one seems to understand his really amiable and unspoiled character. The crown prince is half an Englishman and half a sportsman. It must be difficult for any Englishman to accuse himself of our traditional Prussian ideas of duty, nevertheless the English are every inch men and have known how to win an empire that embraces the greater part of the world.
The crown prince is largely imbued with this English spirit of independence and still more with English conceptions of sport, which constantly conflict with the old correct, rigid, Prussian formalism and idea of duty. Undoubtedly he may develop along paths in which he will go astray, but he should not be judged too severely on small points, for there are many good, healthy and fruitful elements in his love of sport.
His own idea of himself is very original. Not so long ago he said something like this. "My father will never understand me, for his idea of sport is quite different from mine. This is perfectly natural, for from youth up he has been prevented from taking any part in sport by his undeveloped arm. But for me mankind is divided into two categories: those who are really sportsmen and those who are not. For the latter I have no use at all." These are very immature and naive ideas, but they are not the worst a young man of 23 can have.
The crown prince is very amiable, clever and highly cultivated, so it may be hoped that she will counteract this exaggerated worship of sport. But above all I believe that if the crown prince were ever faced with serious tasks, or suddenly to come to the throne, there would be an end of his crude theories of life.

CHILD LABOR AMENDMENT
Editor Post-Crescent: We are sorry to learn that the Outagamie County Union of the American Society of Equity has gone on record as opposed to the Federal Child Labor Amendment, especially so since the resolution was passed without a clear understanding of the Amendment.

Mr. H. H. Jack, who spoke against the Amendment, said that it was a law now before the legislature providing that the minimum age of working children be changed to 18 years. If this were true, there would indeed be little support for the Amendment.

However, as the Post-Crescent knows, the Amendment merely gives Congress the power to pass a law regulating child labor. It fixes the age limit at 18 years in order to limit the hours of labor for older children and to keep them from entering certain dangerous occupations. Its purpose is not to prohibit all children under 18 from working in any occupation.

The friends of the Amendment believe that it is perfectly allowable for children under 18 to work. They believe that most children under 18 would be benefited by and therefore ought to work. They do not wish children to grow up in idleness and irresponsibility. We are sure no one really believes that all the Senators and Congressmen who voted for the Amendment are so foolish as to seek to prevent the young people of our nation from learning some useful occupation before they are 18.

As to the legislation which will follow the ratification of the Amendment, it is absolutely certain that Congress will not pass any legislation which no one wants. It is highly probable that the standards set up in the first two Federal Acts will be followed; that is, the prohibition of the labor of all children under 14, in all industrial occupations, the limitation of hours of labor of older children and the regulation of the labor of older children in certain dangerous occupations. Congressmen, after all, are only the representatives of their constituents, and there is not the slightest chance that their constituents would agree to the passage of any law which prevents all children under 18 from working.

Q Does the King of England have the same power of veto as the President of the United States has? A. No, he has, but there has been no instance of a veto from the crown upon a law of Parliament since the reign of Queen Anne.
Q Was the expression "a scrap of paper" first used during the World War? A. No, it was used as early as 1878. On January 17th of that year Baron Jomini, the Russian Minister, used these words in a letter to the Rumanian Foreign Minister in reference to the passage of Russian troops through Rumania.

Girls Eager To Take Part In Festival

Enthusiasm is at a high pitch among the classes and groups of the recreation department of Appleton Women's club as they prepare for the December festival, which is to be on Dec. 4 in the Elk club. The entertainment is to consist of an afternoon card party, a supper, entertainment booths and a dance.

The sports council, under whose direction the festival is being given, is the executive body of the recreation department, and is made up of representatives from each class and club. Its membership consists of about 40 girls, who meet monthly to transact all business that has to do with the recreation department. Running expenses, the maintenance of the club cottage at Lake Winnebago, expenses of incidental parties at the clubhouse, publicity and advertising and overhead expenses of some of the classes, come out of the recreation department's budget.

As the women of the club go out into the city for contributions during the festival, the recreation department starts work on the December festival to help raise money for its running expenses.

The purpose of the festival is twofold. First, it will help to raise money for the budget, and second, it brings all girls of the recreation department into closer relationship, encourages a finer loyalty to the club through efforts extended for something larger than their own group or class.

AFRAID SHE COULD NOT LIVE

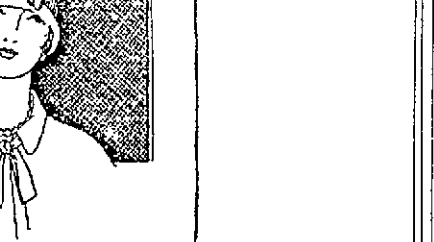

Operation Advised, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made It Unnecessary

Glasgow, Kentucky.—"I was rundown, nervous, with no appetite. My side had given me trouble for five or six years. At times it was all I could do to live, and the doctor said I couldn't live but a short time longer without an operation. That was two years ago. My sister-in-law recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She had never used it herself, but she said one of her neighbors suffered just like I did, and it cured her. After I had taken four bottles the pain left my side. I had a fine appetite to eat anything that was put before me, and I began to do all my work and my washing, something I hadn't done for years. I am a dressmaker, and this last fall I began suffering with my side again, so I began taking the Vegetable Compound again. I am on my fourth bottle, which makes eight in all I have taken. I feel so much better when I take it and everybody tells me I look better. My appetite improves and I feel stronger in every way. I am a very nervous woman and it seems to help my nerves so much."—Mrs. MAGGIE WALLER, Glasgow, Kentucky.

KENNETH LAWSON HURT WHEN AUTO SMASHES CULVERT

Young Man Is Taken to Hospital After Car Is Wrecked on Highway 15

Menasha—In attempting to get back on the pavement while returning from a hunting trip to Winneconne, Kenneth Lawson demolished his Marmon car at 11 o'clock Wednesday night by striking the side of a culvert at Merrill corner, on highway 15, three miles south of Neenah.

Mr. Lawson was taken to Theda Clark hospital by George Weintraub, 703 Jefferson-st., Appleton, who came along a few minutes after the accident and found him near the wreckage in an unconscious condition. There was a bad cut near his mouth and another cut over one of his eyes.

Exaggerated reports as to his condition were in circulation Thursday morning, but these were dispelled by information at the hospital which were to the effect that he had recovered consciousness and to all appearances was not seriously injured. While there is very little indication of internal injuries X-Ray pictures will be taken as soon as his condition permits.

Indications at the scene of the wreck are that the front wheels skidded in the mud while he was attempting to get back on the pavement. When he did succeed the speed of the car was such that it faced about and was thrown against the side of the culvert cutting it in two in the middle.

R. H. Eckrich stopped at the scene shortly after the accident while on his way home from Oakton and said it looked as if one of the front wheels struck the side of the culvert while skidding, as the rear end of the car was lying on the opposite side of the highway from where it hit the culvert.

The front end of the car was damaged the least. To all appearances the engine was not damaged and the radiator was unscratched. The exhaust pipe was cut in two and one wheel was smashed. The steering wheel was in fairly good condition. The rear end was reduced to wreckage. Both parts were taken to the garage of the Menasha Motor Car company.

NATIONAL CLUB OF KNIT GOODS MAKERS ORIGINATED HERE

More Than 400 Persons at Payroll of Knitting Mills in Appleton

One of the features of the recent convention of the Western district of the Knitted Outerwear Manufacturers association in Milwaukee, as viewed by one of the veterans of this industry, was one of the great strides made by the knitting industry in the last 25 years.

In the outerwear division of the Knitting industry, which is quite strongly represented in Appleton, the business has grown from $10,000,000 in 1899 to $350,000,000 in 1923, which means that the production has more than doubled itself every five years in the last quarter century.

Appleton has shared in this expansion and has become the center of the knitting industry of the Fox river valley. Starting from the pioneer plant, the Appleton Superior Knitting works which was established as an adjunct to the Appleton Woolen mills on Lake street, the local industry now embraces the Fox River Valley Knitting company on Second street, the Weber Knitting mills and Zwicker Knitting mills, both on Richmond street, with a fifth plant in prospect. With about 400 persons on the combined payroll of the several plants, the industry now ranks second to the paper mill business of the city.

BIG MILLS IN STATE
Although Wisconsin does not play as prominent a part as some of the eastern states in production, yet it has in the Bradley Knitting works of Delevan the largest knitted outerwear manufacturing plant in the United States. Neighboring the Appleton mills is the Jersild Knitting company of Neenah, which also occupies a prominent place in the industry.

It is only within recent years, however, that knitted manufacturers have banded themselves together in an association for their mutual benefit and for the welfare of the industry. The latter which resulted in the formation of the first association went out of an Appleton office in 1916 and its writer, George H. Packard, of the Appleton Superior Knitting works was the first president of the association. Since then the national association has divided into four districts, the Philadelphia, the Cleveland, the New York and the Western associations.

In the early days of the knitting industry, very little in the way of outerwear was produced. Even the sweater, so called because it was intended principally for athletes and for the purpose of making one sweat, had no wide market. Today the use of the sweater has become almost universal, but it no longer is known by that name. Other articles of knitted outerwear, such as mittens, gloves, scarfs and headwear, also are in great demand.

BUILT NEW MACHINES

The wider use of knitted outerwear necessitated radical changes in the type of machinery. The newer machines have not only a greater capacity but produce a finer article.

Just as the production is dependent upon the supply of wool, the value of the product in turn influenced by the price of wool. Since the United States use 800,000,000 pounds of wool annually, but produces only 335,000,000 pounds a year, the knitting industry cannot rely upon home production of wool entirely.

At present the Boston wool market is lower than the Liverpool market. The duty on wool has been lowered from 42 cents a pound to 35 cents.

The result of the recent elections will stimulate the knitting trade as it will other lines of industry. Following a business slump during the early part of the year, the trade is showing excellent progress. The most favorable periods of the year are the first five months and the last four months. With the price of worsted yarn about 30 cents a pound higher than it was last year, no reduction is to be expected in the price of the finished knit product this year. The price of wool, however, is only a minor element, for labor constitutes the chief item in the cost of production.

Pfeil, city poor commission; Mrs. Charles Mory, Women's Legion auxiliary; P. N. Belanger, Lions club; Dr. J. R. Denyes, Kiwanis club; Hugh G. Corbett, Rotary club.

TAILORS RUSHED WITH OVERCOATS AS MERCURY DROPS

People of Appleton are preparing for a long hard winter, according to local tailors. Overcoats are coming in by the dozens to be repaired, relined or made heavier. It is a rare day when any local tailor does not have at least three or four overcoats brought in. Only tailor spent all of last week on overcoats alone and still has a large number of them to work on. Most overcoat jobs are "hurry-up" work. They are brought in when the weather suddenly turns cold and must be out the same day in order to please the customer.

We're always looking for new novelties—and we believe we have another one for you in the "Syncopeation Review" Fischer's Appleton next week.

Here's a decided Novelty entertainment "Syncopeation Review" coming to Fischer's Appleton.

What
DUZ users think of DUZ

Gentlemen:
This is just a personal word to you about Duz. I want to tell you from my own experience that Duz does it just as it says it will.

If I want the grimy streak out of soft collars, Duz does it. If I want the oil and grease out of the shirts from printing office work and oil works Duz does it. If I want to remove stains of any kind, Duz does it.

I have done my own washing for 30 years and tried everything to make the rubbing easier, and Duz really does it. I am just writing this because I am truly so pleased with the work that Duz does.

VOTE ON NOV. 4 4,000 MORE THAN
BEST IN HISTORY
More Than 18,000 Outagamie-co Citizens Went to Polls This Year

The highest number of votes polled by any candidate in the recent election was the 14,275 received by John E. Hantschel, county clerk, according to the canvass of the vote made by the county canvassing board. The clerk not only ran ahead of the Republican party which he espoused after more than 600 voters wrote in his name on the Republican ticket at the primaries in which he ran as an Independent, but he also rolled up the largest vote ever received by any candidate in the history of the county. Circumstances that helped swell the total were the fact that he was without opposition at both elections and the fact that he rode in on the vote of 4,000 persons who were probably voting for the first time.

John A. Lonsdorf, district attorney, was unopposed at the primaries, but had competition in the November election. His plurality of 11,151 was the largest ever received by a candidate in the county. There were in addition to the clerk six other candidates who were without opposition at the general election: Dr. H. B. Ellsworth, owner, Miss Marie Ziegenhagen, treasurer, Harry A. Shannon, clerk of courts, Anton Miller and Fred Mueller, assemblymen, and John Englund, clerk.

BREAK ALL RECORDS
The record breaking vote of 18,183 cast in the county last week Tuesday meant nearly 4,000 more votes than were cast in 1920, which was the first year that women were permitted to vote in a presidential election. The vote in Appleton was 7,346, or 2,000 more than were cast in 1920. In this year's presidential election, the Independent ticket of LaFollette and Wheeler carried the county by a plurality of about 4,000 but Coolidge and Dawes carried Appleton by 121 votes. The Wisconsin senator ran weaker than Harding in the 1920 election when the late president polled 12,140 votes in the county, as compared with LaFollette's 10,357 votes in the county this year, although the senator had 4,000 more votes to draw from.

ROONEY IGNORED
The psychology of the voter marking his presidential ballot was visible in that the first few presidential electors of every ticket received more votes than those in the lower part of the column. Thus former Gov. Philipp, Republican, and Zona Gale, Independent Progressive, received more votes than their fellows. An exception was made on the Democratic ticket, however. Attorney Francis J. Rooney, being an Outagamieco, resident, received more votes than the rest of the Democratic presidential electors.

John W. Davis, Democratic nominee for president, ran considerably weaker than Cox did in 1920, although there were more votes to draw upon this year. The radical and prohibition parties were in a most conspicuous minority in this county, the Prohibitionists drawing 43, the Workers party 63, Socialist-Laborites 8, and the Commonwealth Land party. (Single Taxers) 12.

BLAINE TRAILS TICKET
Governor Blaine, although carrying the county by 4,000 votes ran poorer than any other man of his party. Lueck, Democrat candidate for governor ran far ahead of his own ticket. Zimmerman, secretary of state polled the largest vote of all state officers. Two of the constitutional amendments carried the county—that on home rule and reforestation, but the amendment to increase the number of circuit court judges was defeated. Following is the vote cast for all candidates on national, state and county tickets:

PRESIDENTIAL
Coolidge-Dawes, Republican, 6,426; Davis-Bryan, Democrat, 1,274; Farls-Braham, Prohibition, 43; La-Follette-Wheeler, Independent Progressive, 10,357; Foster-Gitlow, Workers Party of America, 63; Johns-Reynolds, Socialist-Labor, 8; Wallace-Lincoln, Commonwealth Land party, 12.

LEGISLATIVE
For congress—Reinert, Democrat, 3,469; Schneider, Republican, 11,817. For state senate—Englund, Republican, 12,633.

For assembly—Mueller, Republican, First district 7,331; Miller, Republican Second district, 5,412.

FLEISCHNER RENTS STORE ON AVENUE
Finding that the growth of his business since opening up a women's ready-to-wear establishment here Sept. 1 had made his quarters too small, David Fleischner, operating Fleischner's Style shop, has leased one of the College-ave stores in the Whedon-bldg. He expects to open up in the new location in about two weeks.

Mr. Fleischner now is located in the new Whedon-bldg at 616 Oneida-st., which is one of the group of small shops. The store he now intends to occupy is the one east of the corner establishment and formerly used by Hyde Jewelry store.

Fixtures now in use will be moved to the new place and more will be added.

Mr. Fleischner came here from Minneapolis to go into business.

NEW APPARATUS TO BE SHOWN AT CONVENTION

Dr. G. L. Holzer, Robert Larson and Dr. H. C. Wilcox are planning to attend the Wisconsin Chiropractors convention on Friday and Saturday of this week in the Plankinton hotel in Milwaukee. Demonstrations of a new instrument for locating the source of pressure on nerves will feature the annual meeting of the association. This device, according to A. P. Stark, president of the association, enables the patient as well as the "chiropractor to see what is wrong with a nerve."

The program for Friday morning will include speeches by F. R. Marquette, Denver; Leo Edwards, Omaha; William C. Schulz, Chicago; and F. H. Sonbold, Chicago. The annual banquet will be held at 6:30 Friday evening.

Business sessions, election of officers, and an address by Leo Nohl, Milwaukee attorney, will be features of Saturday's program. The convention will close with a dancing party at the Arcadia ballrooms Saturday evening.

TAX RATE RAISED 81 CENTS IN SHEBOYGAN
Sheboygan—Sheboygan's tax rate for city purposes only will be $26.95 per $1,000 of valuation this year, according to the proposed budget given its first reading by the city council. The revenue to be raised in the next levy totals $1,049,067.55, compared to $991,129.48 last year. The rate this year is 81 cents per $1,000 higher than last year. A big share of the whole $459,000, goes to the schools.

PEOPLE KICK WHEN DRUNK LOAF ON THEIR PORCHES
James Garvey, 405 Locust-st., was arrested Tuesday by Detective John Duval on a charge of drunkenness, after the defendant had annoyed Spencer-st residents by loitering on their porches. Garvey was assessed a fine of $10 and costs by Judge A. M. Spencer in municipal court Wednesday morning.

680 YOUNG PEOPLE AT THREE DAY CONFERENCE
Six hundred and eighty young people were in Appleton to attend the Wisconsin Young Peoples conference which occurred last Friday, Saturday and Sunday, the final registration showed. Delegates from 45 counties, representing all parts of the state, were present at the conclave, and were taken care of in Appleton homes.

RHEUMATISM LEAVES YOU FOREVER
Deep Seated Uric Acid Deposits Are Dissolved and the Rheumatic Poison Starts to Leave the System Within Twenty-four Hours.

Every Druggist in this county is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer that if a full pint bottle of Allenhu, the sure conquerer of rheumatism, does not show the way to stop the agony, reduce swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

Allenhu has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and pitious and where the patient was helpless.

Mr. James H. Allen of 26 Forbes-St., Rochester, N. Y., the discoverer of Allenhu, who for many years suffered the torments of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Allenhu decisively conquers this worst of all diseases, and he has instructed druggists to guarantee it as above in every instance, ante it as above in every instance.

Volgr's Drug Store, and Schlitz Bros. Co., are my appointed agents in your city. If you live out of town I'll gladly send you free particulars.

Such popularity must be deserved

TO convert critics into enthusiasts, whether for a newschool of music or for a cigarette, requires something more than luck. There's sound reason for every big swing in popular taste. So, to account for Chesterfield's swift rise, look to the cigarette itself, its tobaccos, its blending—in short, its taste. This one thing alone—its decidedly better taste—explains why thousands of smokers are changing from other cigarettes to Chesterfield.

LETTER FROM JOHN ALDEN
PRESCOTT TO SYDNEY
CARTON

I cannot help but think, Syd old boy, that the coincidence that we all ways think is so strange is more natural than we suppose. You remember, don't you, Syd, that you visited Paula Perier one week before my marriage three years ago and now you tell me you are going to meet her in New York just the week before the third anniversary celebration of my wedding.

Paula didn't say what she wanted to see you for, did she? Perhaps she has designs upon you, for I am sure that the incident with me is closed. I hope to heaven it is.

I'm going to confess something to you, Syd. Leslie is like a brand-new sweatshirt with her boobed hair. It's much more becoming to her. Of course I haven't told her this, as it would give her an unfair advantage, but I'll confess it to you. Don't give me away.

Besides, there seems to be a kind of mysteriousness about Leslie lately, which invites in the most intriguing way my curiosity. A long time ago she made the remark that she had something to tell me, and she has referred to it once since, but she has said nothing about it lately. I haven't wanted to refer to it because, of course, you know that I would trust Leslie with my life. It is probably some foolish little thing that she has magnified into a mountain, but I am waiting impatiently until she tells me.

I guess that young sister of hers is a hellion. Leslie hasn't told me very much, but from what she said I read between the lines that her sister, Alice, not content with getting Karl Whitney for herself, is now jealous of her own sister, and makes it uncomfortable for both Whitney, who seems rather a decent sort of a fellow—and surely one can't blame him for having been in love with Leslie, you know—and for Leslie.

I think Ruth Ellington is going to marry Walter Burke. She has been very successful with that lingerie shop. I have always wanted to know who put up the money for her, and I have now come to the conclusion it was Burke. If he did it, I am not sure that he didn't put up the money for his own funeral home, for Ruth is so crazy about her own business ability that I'm not sure she'll give up the shop even if she marries Burke.

Strange, isn't it, how a little economic independence goes to a woman's head. That is the old fault I have to find with Mrs. Atherton—she is so cocky about her business ability. I really see the logic of the American idea of not giving a girl about to be married a dot. She's independent enough as it is. I think Mr. Hamilton's stand in not giving Leslie much money on her marriage was perfectly correct, although at the time I thought he was a tightwad. If Leslie had money of her own now, or a business that was bringing her in money, she wouldn't be as sweet and docile as she is.

I'm all curiosity to know just why Paula Perier wants to see you. Mrs. Atherton informed me the other day that my curiosity was the one thing that was always getting me into trouble. It was when I took her to task for coming out to dinner with a strange man, said by the way that who made the remark she gave me to understand that it was none of my business who she went with. She may be tight, at that.

JACK.

Saturday's Games Fail to Affect Conference Standings When Ripon and Carroll Play to Tie

Milwaukee—Play in the Little Five football conference last week failed to change the relative standings of the teams in the title race, the only game played resulting in a tie. This was between Carroll and Ripon colleges with neither side able to score. Lawrence college was idle, while Beloit played a Midwest conference game with Cornell college to a 7 to 7 tie in neutral territory at Rockford, Ill. Northwestern also had a game not within the conference.

On the face of the football record for this year, Beloit college appears to have a shade the better of the odds for title, with three teams now hotly contesting for the honor. Beloit has an unbroken record of one game won and none lost; Lawrence has won two and tied one, the last being with Ripon, which has won one and tied twice, losing none. Assuming that Beloit will dispose of Ripon college next Saturday at Ripon, this being the indication, the championship game will be played Nov. 22, between Lawrence and Beloit at Beloit.

The only other conference game Saturday is between Carroll and Northwestern colleges at Watertown, with the chances favoring Carroll. Lawrence plays Hamilton in a Midwest conference game at Lawrence, the game being of the homecoming nature. With the games Saturday out of the way, there remains only what is now believed to be the deciding encounter between Lawrence and Beloit.

Appleton Parochial Schoolers
Cop Third Straight Game
from Menasha Squad

St. Mary parochial schoolers of Appleton Wednesday afternoon topped their third straight game from St. Patrick squad of Menasha, 30 to 12, in a hotly contested battle at Jones park here. The Appleton youngsters took their first game, 26 to 18, and the second, 12 to 6.

Edward Doine, quarterback of the St. Mary eleven, carried the oval across for two of the five touchdowns, while H. McGinnis, fullback, E. Crane, left end, and E. Douglas, right end, made the other three. Douglas intercepted a pass near the end of the game and raced about 25 yards to cross the hostile line.

Saturday the St. Mary gridders will meet St. Peter squad of Oshkosh at Jones park.

Thirty Two Years Of
Rivalry Back Battle
Of Maroon And Purple

Conference Leading Illini Stop
in Chicago to Give Grange
and His Mates Final Workout

By Associated Press
Chicago—Thirty two years of traditional rivalry is the background for the Chicago-Northwestern tilt, which with the Illinois-Minnesota clash at Minneapolis, tops the Western conference football program this week.

In 1892 when the two Chicago teams played their first football game, a scoreless tie resulted and another game later the same season was a 6 to 4 victory. Except in 1906 and for two years thereafter when football was abolished at Northwestern, and in 1920, the teams have met once and sometimes oftener every year.

Chicago has a string of victories. In the 33 games played three were ties and Northwestern has won seven. The Purple has slight hope of adding to its wins in the impending clash, for it has a crippled and weakened squad to oppose the livesteamers of the Maroon Aces, Austin McCarthy and Harry Thomas. Six Northwestern men are casuals with only two having much chance of playing.

The conference leading Illini, enroute to Minneapolis, halted in Chicago Thursday to permit "Red" Grange and his mates a final practice session. Coach Spaulding of the Gophers was concerned with getting substitutes for Clarence Schultze, hard plunging back. Another Lilburn whose physical condition makes it appear likely they will be out for Saturday's game.

Prospects that the Western Conference attendance record of 72,000 made when Michigan played Ohio State at Columbus in 1922 will be broken, loomed Thursday. Every seat in the stadium has been engaged and field boxes and standing room platforms to accommodate overflow crowds have been set up.

Lova and Wisconsin are in good shape for their meeting at Madison. The Hawkeyes plan to push the fighting while the Badgers with no credit on the season's ledger so far, hope to engage Chicago next week with a victory over Iowa marked up this week.

Rumors of a possible post-season game between Notre Dame and Illinois denied by George Huff, University of Illinois director of athletics, were revived at South Bend when it became known Huff had made reservations to witness the Notre Dame-Columbia game Saturday. Notre Dame's chance to claim a national title hangs in the balance in the clash with the Cornhuskers, the annual jinx of Coach Boeckman's eleven, since only mediocre opposition is expected in the season's finale for Notre Dame next week with Northwestern at Chicago.

New York—Walter Hagen, British open golf champion, and Cyril Walker, American open champion, agreed to play a 72-hole match in Florida some time in January.

MIAMI—Jimmie Lewis, Brooklyn, had a shade over Frankie Moran of New Orleans in a ten-round bout between the 130 pounders. Tom McLean, Indianapolis, 129, outpointed Leonora of Savannah, 121, in ten rounds.

APPLETON LOOKS FOR HARD TILT AT EAST GREEN BAY

Both Elevens Are Filled with Wholesome Respect for Each Other

One of the hardest football games in the Valley conference is scheduled for Saturday afternoon at Bellevue park when Appleton meets East Green Bay, the conference leaders, there. The Orange huskies have been drilling overtime this week in preparation for the big contest, and will be in good shape.

Several shifts in the Appleton lineup may be made before Saturday's game, which will put Bowley at half and Courtney at quarter. Every man on the Orange squad was in good condition after last week's game with West Green Bay here, and there will be no gaps to fill in the East Green Bay fricas.

Evidently the West Siders went home with a wholesome respect for Appleton, for their neighbors are looking forward to a hard battle, as may be seen in the following article which appeared in the Green Bay Press Gazette:

Green Bay—"The East High footballers are working hard for their coming encounter with the strong Appleton aggregation, which will be staged Saturday afternoon at Bellevue park."

"The Hilltoppers pulled out of their game with Oshkosh in pretty good shape, and Coach Wiley is confident of starting his strongest lineup against the College City gridders."

"O'Brien, the flashy East High end, who was on the sidelines for the last few games, due to injuries, will be back in the battlefront for Saturday's encounter while Calahan, the Hilltopper center, laid up since the Sheboygan game will not be in condition to play until the Turkey day battle with West High."

"Appleton showing against West High last week sort of threw a scare into the Green Bay players and according to all indications, the Jays will have to step lively if they expect to win the verdict."

smashed 582 pins for his total and although his high game of 200 was beaten at least six times he rolled consistently to head the evening's scoring. C. Huesemann's 220 was high game.

LABOR ASSISTING IN EDUCATION WEEK

Local Council Will Appoint Committee to Cooperate with Schools

Cooperation with the schools and other groups in observance of national education week beginning Nov. 17 was arranged by Appleton Trades and Labor Council at its regular meeting in Trades and Labor hall Wednesday evening. Congressman George Schneider, who was re-elected Nov. 4, was present and addressed the council.

P. E. Bachman, president of the council, was authorized to appoint a committee for education week. This was done on recommendation of the American Federation of Labor, which has written to all labor unions to observe the week.

It is the duty of the committee on education to see that labor makes the most of education week and it is to confer with the public libraries to find out whether the bookshelves are supplied with the leading writings on interpretations of labor and in industrial problems.

Congressman Schneider expressed his thanks to the Trades and Labor council for its support not only in the campaign leading up to his reelection Nov. 4 but also for the letter which he received. Mr. Schneider assured the union men that when he leaves shortly for Washington he will continue to work for legislation in their interests.

which will be shown at the New Bijou theater Friday and Saturday. The picture is based upon a story by John Lynch and is novel in treatment and plot.

The screen version has been prepared in such a manner that the spectator is held in suspense until the climax. Several of the scenes are taken in a theater and for this purpose the Brighton Beach Music Hall near the more famous Coney Island was used. A huge cyclorama was borrowed from a Broadway theater and hung in the seaside show house. The stage setting was the idea of Miss Griffith who has won considerable reputation as an artist and designer. It is one of the most picturesque stage settings ever used for a production and Miss Griffith won much praise for her artistry in designing this set.

LA PLANTE HAS PROVEN ABILITY IN "BUTTERFLY"

Self-sacrifice of an elder sister for a sister who is wayward and selfish, but very natural at that, is the main theme of "Butterfly." Universal-Jewel Clarence Brown production which opened today in the Elite theatre. Its love interests and comedy make for fine entertainment.

Laura La Plante, Ruth Clifford, Norman Kerry and Kenneth Harlan are the featured players in "Butterfly," which was directed by Clarence L. Brown from the widely read novel of the same name by Kathleen Norris. The story is one of the human kind; the characters are such men and women as can be found in most any circle of acquaintances unless, perhaps, it be Konrad, the violinist, who is a musical genius.

The sisters are orphans, comfortably situated. The elder is employed as secretary for a successful business man, while the other makes a pretense of keeping house; also she has a certain talent as a violinist which the elder sister fosters financially.

The employer of the elder sister makes it quite plain that he loves her, and she considers herself engaged only to learn that it is the younger who attracts the man. The elder then resigns herself to her disappointment and the younger becomes the man's wife.
